Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1 and 4-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bonardi et al. (US2002/0171954).

With respect to claim 1, Bonardi et al. discloses a vehicle outside mirror module (200) with a heatable mirror glass assembly group, whereby the mirror glass assembly group (10) exhibits at least one mirror glass (14) and an at least one layered, foil-like heating foil (206) flexibly configured on the back side (14b) of said mirror glass provided with power supply points (208) - said heating foil receiving at least one heating element thus characterized, - that on or in the heating foil (206) at least one means of lighting (220) and at least one additional power supply point (paragraph[0053]) are configured or integrated, - that on or in the heating foil (206), between the one or the several lighting means (220) and the one or the additional power supply points (paragraph[0053]), conductive tracks providing current are configured or integrated which contact said power supply points, - that each lighting means has at least one main light exit surface whose spectral centroid lies above the mirror back surface (paragraph [0053]).

With respect to claim 4, the mirror glass is clamped in between a mirror glass support and a mirror glass frame, secured to said support, embracing the mirror glass on its front side as shown in Fig. 5.

With respect to claim 5, the mirror glass frame exhibits a ring-shaped hollow chamber leading along the edge of the mirror as shown in Figure 5.

With respect to claim 6, the tabs (215a) of the heating foil (206) equipped with the lighting means (220) are configured to have play or to exactly form-fit inside of the hollow chamber.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148

USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

5. Claims 2-3 and 7-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bonardi et al. (US2002/0171954).

With respect to claims 2 and 3, Bonardi et al. discloses the heating foil (206) having lighting means (220) and tabs (215a, 215b) are at least long enough that they project over the mirror glass front side (14) by at least one cross dimension of a light emitting diode projecting over the mirror glass (14) for receiving bus bars but does not disclose tabs are for receiving the lighting means.

This is considered as relocation/reversal of parts. The relocation/reversal of components in a prior art reference, where there is no disclosed significance to such reversal, is a design consideration within the skill of the art. In re Gazda, 219 F.2d 449, 104 USPQ 400 (CCPA 1955); In re Japikse, 181 F.2d 1019, 86 USPQ 70 (CCPA 11950).

With respect to claims 7, Bonardi et al. discloses electrically conductive tracings may be printed on printed circuit board/ heating foil (206) which act as a heating element.

With respect to claim 8, Bonardi et al. discloses electrically conductive tracings may be printed on printed circuit board/ heating foil (206), conductive tracing is considered as resistor wire.

With respect to claim 9, Bonardi et al. discloses the lighting means (220) are a light emitting diode or a group of light emitting diodes on which a light wave guide is formed.
